

Rapaport International Diamond Conference

what resource is more valuable than one's story. And how different was my situation, really, than those willing who plunder a country's natural treasure and then give nothing in

